LOVING GOD • LOVING PEOPLE

To Whom it May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to give my full endorsement to All-Star Restoration, and its owner, Mr. Edward "Corky" Randolph. We are enjoying a completely restored building, after suffering the effects of Hurricane Lili last fall.

I cannot fully express to you the tremendous blessing Mr. Randolph was to my staff and me. We were able to continue to give our attention to the ministry, having full confidence that he was proficient in his business and was giving himself diligently to restoring our building. Yet, he was always available to us whenever we needed.

Mr. Randolph took up residence in New Iberia for the duration of the seven month long project. His experience and skills in his field were evident from beginning to end. He also proved to be very valuable as a liaison with our insurance company. I learned that restoration work is viewed completely differently than new construction, as far as insurance is concerned. Mr. Randolph was knowledgeable about this and conversant in insurance vocabulary. Because of his intervention and thoroughness, a more accurate determination was made of our actual loss; therefore, we were able to recover a much more equitable settlement than originally expected.

His company secured competent subcontractors, and provided careful oversight throughout each phase of the project. While he gave meticulous attention to detail and demanded the highest quality work, he was well liked by the workers under his supervision.

Not only is Mr. Randolph a skilled businessman, he is also a deeply committed servant of the Lord. During his stay here, he gave of his time to teach a 20-week course on Financial Freedom to our congregation. It was a great help to many of our families.

I don't think you can find a man of higher integrity or greater expertise in his field than Mr. Randolph. I recommend him without reservation. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Rev. Paul J. Neel
