To whom it may concern,

I am writing to offer my highest endorsement and recommendation of Corky Randolph and his company All-Star Restoration.

I have had the privilege of knowing Mr. Randolph for the past eight years. He has consistently demonstrated the highest level of integrity, not only in his personal life, but also in his business practices as well.

When a storm damaged the roof of my home four years ago, I called upon All-Star Restoration to repair the extensive damage. To my amazement, they were able to work with my insurance company in a way to get a more superior roof at no extra cost to me. For that, I am very grateful.

Without hesitation, if my home is ever damaged again by severe weather, I will call upon Mr. Randolph's company to do the repairs. Excellent quality in a timely manner is obviously one of the predominant values that guides their company.

Sincerely,

Mark Morrow
